There once was a valentine
Who told everyone "Be mine!"
He played the part
Of Mister Big Heart
With a mouth that went all the time!

There once was a secretary
Who told everyone "Be merry!"
They misunderstood
And said "would if I could"
Now valentine's Mary's contrary.

SO MUCH FOR THE VALENTINES! How about faculty handbook news?

Straight from the typewriter of Mrs. Phelan - who has been receiving mystery valentines!
The updating of faculty handbooks and college policy manuals is now almost complete. The new material includes new job descriptions for organizational charts, with no major changes in materials other than job title changes for Mr. Farnell (Now Dean of Business Affairs), and Mr. Archibald (renamed Dean of Students).
"If you have not yet had your book (s) updated, please turn them in to me (M.P.) as soon as possible."

VICTOR BUONO CONCERT FRIDAY EVENING!

Bob Miller mentions that faculty and staff members with staff I.D. cards will be admitted to this fine event (8 p.m., Albany Elks, Friday) at the student rate of $1. This promises to be an outstanding student-sponsored event. (And, please note the apology of all concerned for the failure of Archie Moore to keep his engagement at LBCC last Monday. He had a conflicting engagement and didn't notify Bob before Monday morning.)
Almost forgot - Victor Buono received an Academy award nomination for his performance in "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane" showing tonight at 7 p.m. in the Schafer Lounge)

Thursday evening, 7:30 p.m., LBCC Board of Education meeting, board room.
Friday noon - The President's Advisory meeting in the board room. Come and discuss any school related problem with Dr. Needham.

Thursday, 4 p.m. - faculty and staff and invited to participate in the continuing discussion on "Year-Around School Operation" in room C-5. According to Bill Siebler, the purpose of the meeting is to give anyone a chance to express his ideas, reservations, questions, etc. as to how best to proceed. Come and bring your ideas!

IF IT'S BEEN QUIET on the Continuing Education front, it's only because a certain Mrs. Steele has been voiceless and hence absent of late. We're glad you're back, Lorraine, even if it's an awakening!!

THE LRC WILL HAVE ON FILE a copy of every bill submitted to the legislature.

DRAMA NEEDS SOME DRAWERS! A chest-of-drawers, that is!

Mrs. George has announced that a used chest of drawers needs to "be borrowed" for the set of one of the two one-act plays scheduled for February 18-19-20 at the Parker Building. (They will be picked up and delivered.) The comedys will be presented for your entertainment by the LBCC Theatre Workshop, Language Arts (Speech) department. The cast is as follows:

Box & Cox: Craig Henkhouse, Albany; Jim Gillespie, Corvallis; Katherine Rinehart, Corvallis.

Owl: Mark Johnson, Debbie Lansell, Jeff Seber.

THURSDAY TOUR

Bob Talbott has noted that several students from the Children's Farm Home will be visiting and touring LBCC facilities between 9 and 11 a.m.

TELL A SOPHOMORE!

Now is the time for all 2nd year students to contact their counselors and fill out a graduation check sheet!

VAL-O-GRAMS for sale! Phi Beta Lambda business club has these unique messages on sale in the student center for 10¢ each. Help spread a little heart around campus!

OOOPPS!! Sorry we missed you...happy late-late February birthday!

Shirley Call, Dorothy Hazel and Margaret Orsi all had February 3 birthdays.

February 15 - A cigar for Phil Clark! (a fragrant one)

February 16 - A cure for excedrin headache #69 for Jan Strombeck.

February 22- Another bottle of Bertha's Best for Ed Draper.

February 24- Two extra hours per day for Laurel Dye.

February 28- Bill Maier's old cowboy hat to go with Dean Archibald's Mustang.
