

THE COMMUNICATOR

March 29, 1971

Editor, Peggy Toftdahl

COUNSELING IS NOW 52!!

Just in case you think they're never home at their old number, just dial the magic 52 number and the lilting voice that answers is probably Pat Peterson. (Not Talbott ... there's a definite difference!) It could be Janet Brem....but if those tender tones have lost their lilt, 'tis probably Osterlund, Miller or Talbott. You'll find them all at 52 from now on.

And, speaking of Talbott, he is announcing that bridge lessons are in the air for his bridgeless friend, Judy Green. Searching for volunteers He came up with: Ray Miller, Ed Wright, Bill Seibler, Bill Maier, Vern Farnell, Ed Draper, Jim Barnes, Max Leiberman, and Dick McClain (even tho he hasn't played since college days!) Al Walzak doesn't even play, and he volunteered!

HAPPY SPRING!

Things were a bit quiet back at the ranch with students away, and a few found time to play. Like Mr. Brick & family! They were "tenting it" at Honeyman when the rains came down!! Mr. Seibler returned with some sour dough bread.....Lorraine & Margaret were so excited about lunch at The Marion, they locked their keys in their car.....McClain's Roadrunners won 2 and lost 1.....Dr. Needham & Ski collaborated on a fish story. Bob Miller dissertated.....Annie Farrington went south and the Farnells went north....Dr. Adams family made it through the big coast blow.....I helped snare 40 hermit crabs (then held proper services when toddlers changed the salt water for soap suds).....for Dixie it was pure rest & relaxation....rumor says Linda's eating pickles...

NEWS FROM NURSINGGayle Green reports that the nursing students are going to assist the Corvallis JC's with the Vision Screening project for school children beginning Saturday, April 10, as a service project. Also, on April 5 the President of the Oregon State Nurses Association, Districts 23 & 6, will be lecturing the nursing students. The organization of a State Nurses Of Oregon (SNOO) group on campus is in the wind.

CAPPING DENTAL ASSISTANT STUDENTS Friday, April 2, 2 p.m., First Methodist Church!! Vera Collins has announced that students will be serving tea following the ceremony to family & friends.

TICKETS FOR THE POPS CONCERT APRIL 1st are still available from Margaret Orsi. Adults, $3, students $1.50. Enjoy the themes from movies as played by the Oregon Symphony!

THE TELEPHONE LINES ARE EXTRA BUSY, so remember to keep your calls as short as possible during registration