Old-fashioned family fun planned to celebrate LBCC's 25th anniversary

For a quarter of a century, Linn-Benton Community College has helped members of the community enrich and improve their lives. This is serious business and we are proud of our many students and the work that they have accomplished in building our communities over the 25 year college history. But for one week this fall, we want to smile a lot and remember how special this college is in Linn and Benton counties. We invite you to be a part of this special week-long 25th anniversary celebration beginning Monday, October 26.

More than 27,500 people take at least one class through LBCC each year, so this should be a big community celebration.

We are inviting community members in Linn and Benton counties, founders, alums, staff, retired staff – anyone with an interest in the college – to join us in some old-fashioned, family-oriented celebration – there should be something for everyone. Possibilities include a gigantic Halloween Party with pumpkin carving, mask painting, costume contest and dancing; a barbecue/picnic; a time capsule; and sporting events, such as volleyball, bike race and fun run/walk. Come see a video with insights from members of the original founders group.

Watch your local newspaper and listen to the local radio stations for celebration details, which will be announced later this fall.

Celebrate LBCC's 25th Anniversary the week of October 26, 1992.

The LBCC/High School Connection

For 25 years, Linn-Benton Community College faculty and high school instructors have worked together to serve the high school students in the college district. Activities cover a wide spectrum, including co-sponsoring the Annual Regional Skills Conference; providing college preparation information and workshops; hosting district/regional contests, conferences and clinics; providing scholarships; and granting LBCC credit for high school course work.

The granting of LBCC credit for high school course work (Linn-Benton Community College/High School Articulation Project) has developed over the years and covers a variety of subject areas. The cost is low, and students get a "head start" on their college education. Program areas include:

1. Agriculture
2. Biology
3. Business/Marketing
4. Computer Science
5. Drafting
6. Foreign Languages
7. Health Occupations
8. Hospitality/Tourism/Recreation
9. Office Technology
10. Welding

The Health Occupations area is a prime example of students having an opportunity to earn LBCC credit while still in high school. The Health Occupations is unique because it is taught by LBCC instructors at four different sites and is available to any high school student in Linn or Benton county.

Students have three hours of class per week and six hours of non-paid work experience per week. The work experience is hosted by a health-related facility. Students observe and/or participate in the agency's activities, depending on the site. During the school year, each student works in at least six different job sites. The program is very popular with students, and the support from area employers is outstanding, with over 150 health-related employers currently participating.

Over 60 high school students participated in the Health Occupations program this past year. They all agree that this "extended classroom" experience has been invaluable in providing them hands-on time in a variety of health areas. They are able to get an inside look at what really happens in the various facilities, which, in turn, helps them make career decisions.

In addition to providing work-related training, the Health Occupations program is an example for restructuring Oregon's educational system. This type of program contributes to the state's goal of having a workforce equal to any in the world by the year 2010. The partnership among LBCC, local high schools and the health industry serves as a model for implementing the Oregon School Reform Agenda in Linn and Benton counties.

For more information on options for earning LBCC credit while still in high school, contact a high school counselor or call the Academic Affairs Office at LBCC, 967-6100, ext. 117.

Alea Humme, Corvallis, graduated from Corvallis High School in June 1992. She spent part of her work experience time at Mid-Willamette Veterinary Clinic. Her goal is nursing.

Steve Looney, Lebanon, graduated in June from Lebanon Union High School. Steve is operating an auto refractor testing machine in Dr. Dennis Pearson's office in Lebanon. Steve's career goal is to be an optometrist.

Allison Terpack, Corvallis, is a senior at Crescent Valley High School this fall. She is performing an electrocardiogram on a "patient" at Good Samaritan Hospital. Her patient is actually Walter Mulford, a staff member at the hospital. Allison's career goal is to be a general practitioner or a pediatrician.

IMPORTANT:

Please read this information before planning your schedule of classes or registering.

All LBCC credit classes, except Adult High School Diploma, whether lower-division transfer or vocational/technical non-transfer, are taught as college-level courses.

Courses with letter prefixes apply toward LBCC degrees and certificates. Vocational/technical courses are numbered 1.000 through 8.999. These courses generally are not transferable to a four-year college or university. There are some exceptions to this rule, however. Students should see an advisor concerning the transferability of vocational/technical courses.

Courses with 100 and 200 numbers are college-transfer courses. Courses with numbers between 100 and 199 are considered freshman-level courses, and those numbered 200-299 are considered sophomore-level courses.

Courses with decimal points in them and courses with numbers below 100 are not college transfer courses. For example OA 2.530 or MTH 20 probably would not be accepted by a four-year institution.

Some programs require specific courses for satisfying some of the General Education Requirements. Be sure to see your advisor to make sure the courses you select meet the requirements of your program.

General Education Requirements for Associate Degrees

Students should refer to the current LBCC Catalog, "General Education Requirements" section, for information about courses that fulfill General Education Requirements.

Generally, classes that offer a total of five (5) hours of lecture and five (5) hours of individual hands-on experience on the computer (or at least one credit hour) will apply toward the Computer Competency requirement. For a list of these classes, contact the Academic Affairs Office, room 101, College Center, or the Admission Office, room 115, Tadena Hall. A complete list of classes that will fulfill the Perspectives requirement for the Associate of Science degree is available from the Academic Affairs Office, Counseling Center and Division/Department offices. All students are encouraged to meet with their advisor or a counselor when planning their schedules and for assistance in determining which courses fulfill specific requirements.

Alcohol- and Drug-free Program

In compliance with Public Law 101-226, Linn-Benton Community College maintains an Alcohol- and Drug-Free Program to inform students and staff of the risks and penalties associated with the use of alcohol and other drugs. To maintain a drug-free workplace, the college established an Alcohol and Drug Awareness program for students and staff. A pamphlet covering LBCC Drug and Alcohol policies is distributed to staff. The policies also are published in the Fall Schedule of Classes and the LBCC catalog. Anyone wanting additional information should contact the Associate Dean of Student Services or the LBCC Human Resources Office, 6500 SW Pacific Blvd., Albany, OR 97321-3779.

Records Information

In accordance with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act, LBCC considers the following to be directory information — student's name, address, telephone listing, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of athletes, school or division of enrollment, degrees and awards received. Students who do not want to have this information released by the college must complete a directory delete form in the Registration Office.

Non-Discrimination Policy

It is the policy of Linn Benton Community College that there will be no discrimination or harassment on the grounds of race, color, sex, marital and/or parental status, religion, national origin, age or disability in its programs, activities or employment. Employees and other people having questions about equal opportunity and non-discrimination should contact the Human Resources Office. Students who have questions should contact the Associate Dean of Students. Questions or concerns related to affirmative action, non-discrimination or equal opportunity should be directed to the Human Resources Office, College Center - room 108, Linn-Benton Community College, 6500 SW Pacific Blvd., Albany OR 97321-3779. Telephone: 967-6502

How to Read the Class Listings

At the top of each page in the sections where classes are listed (Vocational/Technical/College Transfer and Extended Learning) are headings to identify the information you need about each class. An explanation of what each heading means is provided here to help you use the schedule and to register.

Course # indicates the specific course number by which a class is identified. Courses with letter prefixes apply toward LBCC degree and certificate programs. Courses without alphabetical prefixes, such as 0.123 and 9.123, do not apply toward LBCC degrees and certificates. College transfer courses have 100 and 200 numbers. Courses with numbers lower than 100 are not transferable.

Courses numbered between 1.000 and 8.999 are vocational/technical courses and generally will not transfer to four-year colleges and universities. There are some exceptions to this rule. Students should see an advisor concerning the transferability of vocational-technical courses.

Sec. # stands for section number. Some classes are offered several times each term. The section number identifies the specific course and when it meets.

CRN stands for course reference number. This is an identifying number for each course and is used in registering and for other procedures.

Credits indicates the number of credits given for the course.

Grade indicates the grading options. A - F - a graded class; PNP - pass/no pass only; OPT - student can request Pass/No Pass but is graded otherwise; C - Applies to non-credit classes only and indicates that a student can request a completion verification.

Day(s) indicates the day or days of the week the class meets. The key for days of the week is at the bottom of each page of class listings. TBA indicates "to be arranged."

Time indicates the starting and ending time of each class. Classes that begin at 5 p.m. or after are considered night classes and are indicated with a gray shading in the Professional/Technical/College Transfer section.

Part Term stands for Part of Term. The Part of Term code (either a number or a letter) is important to know for last day to register, refund and withdrawal dates, and when selecting Pass/No Pass.

Start Date indicates the day the class begins.

of Wks indicates the number of weeks the class meets.

Building/Room indicates the building and room number where the class meets. Class location keys are provided for each section of the schedule.

Footnote(s) indicates special requirements and/or supplemental class information. See footnotes listed on this page.

Telephone registrations are not accepted for classes that have footnotes "I," "K" and/or "T." These classes are marked with this symbol ✖.

Registration Information

This schedule of classes is for selection of Fall Term classes only. To choose a program of study (curriculum), students should use the college catalog and consult with their advisor or counselor.

Students registering for 12 or more credits or receiving financial aid must be admitted to the college. Others may register without being admitted. A Social Security number is required for positive identification of records. An identification number may be requested from the Registration Office for students not possessing a Social Security number.

Registration forms are available in the Registration lobby in Takena Hall and at all LBCC Extended Learning centers. Using this Schedule of Classes, please fully complete your form. Be sure to check the list posted in the Registration lobby and at all the centers for filled, cancelled or changed classes. Take the completed form to the Registration counter or to the center where you will be taking the class.

Tuition

You must pay your tuition the same day you register. Pay your tuition at the Business Affairs Office, first floor of the College Center. Extended Learning Centers: Pay at the center when you register.

An Installment Payment Plan is available. Please see the Tuition information on page 14. If for some reason any portion of the payment is invalidated, such as a non-sufficient-funds check, the student's registration may be cancelled.

Part-time Students

Part-time students can call the Telephone Registration number (926-0664) during the Telephone Registration time period and use their VISA, MasterCard or prearranged Purchase Order for payment.

Faculty Advisors

Faculty advisors and division chairpersons are not available during break weeks. Students needing instructor and/or division approval should secure it prior to those times.

Attendance doesn't equal enrollment

Students who have not officially enrolled in compliance with the dates appearing in the Class Schedule will not receive credit nor will they be given any special consideration for registering in a class merely because they have been attending unofficially.

Academic Information

Adding or Dropping Classes

To add or drop a class, a Schedule Change Form must be presented at the Registration Office or one of the Extended Learning Center offices and any additional tuition paid. Adding classes after the first week requires the instructor's written permission. When a class is dropped within the refund period, tuition may be refunded or transferred to another class. Tuition paid for classes dropped after the refund period cannot be credited toward another class. See the Last Day to Drop For a Refund on the Part of Term table (page 11) of this schedule.

Students who stop attending without giving written notice to the Registration Office within the refund period will forfeit all claims to refunds and will be responsible for their grade in the class and for any installment payment commitment. See refund section for specific refund dates and amount.

Advising

Personal assistance in planning a schedule of classes is available to all students, whether part time or full time, through the Student Advising Program. Newly admitted students will be assigned by their major course of study. Advisors and their office numbers are listed, according to major, on the inside back cover of this schedule. Contact the Counseling Center in Tadena Hall with any questions.

Attendance

Class attendance is most important to the learning process. Students are expected to attend each class meeting for which they have registered. When absence for some unavoidable reason does occur, it is the obligation of the student to contact the instructor to determine if make-up work is possible.

Administrative Withdrawal

Students who do not attend class during the first scheduled week of the class may be officially withdrawn from the class by the instructor

Auditing Classes

Students may enroll as auditors only at the time of original registration. Once declared, audit may not be removed for any reason. Charges for auditing are the same as for regular credit enrollment. Audit status cannot be granted at a later time.

The final grade assigned a student with audit status shall be based solely on classroom attendance and may be entered as an AU or a Y at the discretion of the instructor. The instructor has the right to require 100 percent attendance when audit status is requested.

Cancelled Classes

Classes may be cancelled due to low enrollment. Tuition paid for a cancelled class may be transferred to another class (subject to space availability and instructor approval requirements) or will be refunded.

Credit by Examination

Presently enrolled students (6 or more credits) who believe they have mastered the material presented in courses listed on the Linn-Benton Community College Course Challenge List may apply for Credit by Examination. For further information, please request an outline of Credit by Examination procedures and a Course Challenge List from the Student Assessment Center in Takena Hall.

Financial Aid

Grants, loans and scholarships may be available for those wanting to attend college but who cannot afford the cost. New or continuing students taking six or more credit hours may qualify for financial assistance, which then can be applied to tuition, books, supplies and/or living expenses. Because the application process can take from four to ten weeks, those interested are urged to apply for aid as early as possible. Applications will be mailed upon request. They are available at the Financial Aid Office in Takena Hall, room T-119, phone 967-6104, between 8 am - 5 pm.

Individual evening appointments are available on request. Students receiving financial aid must have completed the admission process, whether full time or part time.

Overload Credits

Students registering for more than 20 credits in a term must have the written approval of a counselor.

Pass/No Pass Grading

Certain courses listed in the schedule have an "OPT" designation in the "Grade" column. Students in these classes have the option of taking the course for the usual letter grade or taking it on a pass/no pass basis. Students in these courses may submit a P/NP Option Form to the Registrar's Office by the appropriate date listed in the Part of Term table (p. 11). Courses listed in the schedule with "P/NP" in the Grade column are those where only pass or no pass grades are issued.

Note: The maximum number of "P" credits allowed toward an LBCC degree will be 16 credits, not including those with mandatory P/NP grading. Students are advised to consult with their advisor or a counselor before deciding to choose the P/NP option.

It is the student's responsibility to check the Class Schedule to determine whether or not a class has the pass/no-pass option. Requests submitted in A-F classes will not convert grades to P/NP.

Refunds

To receive a 100 percent tuition refund, a signed Drop Form must be received in the Registration Office or one of the Extended Learning Center offices within the refund period shown in the Part of Term table (p. 11). Refunds for full-time students who drop below 12 credits are the difference in tuition. Lab fees are refunded upon request of the instructor only.

Classes cancelled by the college are refunded at 100 percent or the tuition is transferred to another class if the student so requests.

If a class is dropped after the refund deadline, the tuition is not refundable. Students who stop attending without giving written notice to the Registration Office within the refund period forfeit all claims to a refund and are responsible for their grade in class and for any installment payment commitment.

Tuition & Fees

Full payment of tuition is required at the time of registration. Students whose tuition is to be paid by a special program, agency or financial aid award must confirm the credit with the Cashier the same day as registering. The Cashier is located in the Business Affairs Office, first floor of the College Center.

Tuition and Fees for Fall Term 1992

	Oregon Residents	Out-of State	Foreign
Per Credit	$ 28	$ 115	$ 130
15-20 Credits	420	1,725	1,950

The tuition for non-credit classes is based on the number of hours an instructor is furnished. The charge is listed with each class.

Tuition reduction for the unemployed

Tuition reduction for the unemployed is for part-time students who are district residents and receiving unemployment compensation or who are available and seeking work. These students may qualify for a 50 percent reduction in tuition up to $168 (which equals a maximum reduction of $84). Ask for an Unemployment Tuition Reduction form at the Registration Office or at LBCC's Extended Learning centers. Before registering, see waiver form for limitations.

Golden Age Program

The Golden Age Program provides opportunity for people 62 years of age or older to participate in college classes for one-half tuition. The discount does not apply to material or lab fees.

Transcript Fee

The fee for an official transcript copy — $2 per copy including first copy, and $1 per each additional copy if ordered and sent at the same time. Student copy — $.50 per copy. Transcript orders require up to 72 hours for processing.

Tuition Payment

In order to validate the registration transaction at LBCC, students must pay the assessed tuition and fees or confirm with the Cashier in the Business Affairs Office, first floor of the College Center, on the day they register that a credit has been previously arranged by a special program, agency or financial aid award.

An Installment Payment Plan is available to all LBCC students registering for more than three credits. A down payment equivalent to three credit hours, plus a $7 installment fee, is required at the time of registration. This service is available at the Business Affairs Office. If for some reason any portion of the payment is invalidated, such as a non-sufficient-funds check, the student's registration may be cancelled.

Veterans' Benefits

Students receiving benefits under the GI Bill, Veterans' Vocational Rehabilitation or as a veteran's dependent must start the necessary paperwork themselves each term in order to receive their benefits. Assistance is available in the Office of Veterans' Affairs (at the Financial Aid Office) in Takena Hall. Call the Financial Aid and Veterans Office at 967-6104 for additional information.

Withdrawal from School

Students who cannot attend classes should officially withdraw from school. The last day to officially withdraw from school Fall Term 1992 is shown in the Part of Term table (p. 11). Students who withdraw and expect a refund of tuition must comply with the dates listed in the column headed "Last Day to Drop for a Refund."

Student Insurance Coverage

Occasionally students will incur injuries or loss of property while participating in Linn-Benton Community College classes or activities. Tuition and fees paid to LBCC do not include medical/dental/disability or theft insurance.

As a service to LBCC students, the college makes available an insurance program in which students may elect to participate. Information can be obtained from the Registration Office in Takena Hall.

For a few classes, arrangements have been made in advance for workers' compensation coverage. This is not automatic and requires prior arrangement with the Business Affairs Office. LBCC also furnishes a limited secondary medical plan for athletes in varsity programs. Both workers' compensation and athlete insurance programs are very specific in applications covering relatively few students.

Registered students at Linn-Benton Community College are not covered by health insurance, accident insurance or by workers' compensation insurance. Further, the college does not provide insurance coverage for tools or personal property that students may lose to theft or may be damaged by vandalism.

Student Programs

The college encourages activities that complement a student's academic program. The Associated Students of LBCC organization provides opportunities for students to serve on college committees, participate in student government and earn credit for participating in leadership activities that enhance student life. Co-curricular clubs and activities available to students include areas such as journalism, welding, engineering, wastewater technology, nursing, animal technology, drama, music, intercollegiate athletics, dental assisting, DECA, culinary arts, graphics arts, diesel, data processing, horticulture, racing performance and business management. Extra-curricular activities include Ski Club, International Students, Native American Students, religious affiliations, dances, lunchtime entertainment and intramural sports.

Student activities, organizations and sports are open to all students. For more information about student activities, contact the Student Programs Office, room 213 in the College Center Building, 967-8831.

Women's Center

The female student population at LBCC is a diverse group. Their goals vary. Some are earning GED's, some are in vocational-technical training programs and others are planning to transfer to a four-year college or university. One thing they all have in common, however, is an open invitation to visit and use the services of the LBCC Women's Center.

The Center offers: Scholarship Information - Listings of currently available private scholarships for women of all ages and in many career areas; Information and Referral Services - comprehensive campus and community referral service to assist the student in finding answers or at least finding the right place to ask questions; Library - an expanding collection of books, periodicals and resource files that are checked out to students and non-students free of charge; Peer Support and Advising - available by appointment or on a drop-in basis plus support groups that meet regularly with the Center acting as a advocate on issues of concern to women; Programs - offered throughout the academic year, such as brown bag lunchtime discussions on a variety of issues.

A lounge with a coffee bar is available for study and informal gatherings.

Call Marian Roberts, coordinator, 928-2361, ext. 321, or the Women's Center, 928-2361, ext. 377, for more information.

Inclement Weather or Other Emergency Closure

Linn-Benton Community College classes will not be held on the main campus or through the Community Education centers if the college is closed because of bad weather, hazardous driving conditions or other emergency conditions. Please listen to your local radio station for closure announcements. College officials will call the stations before 6:30 a.m. if the college is going to be closed that day. Also, if the college is going to be closed, an announcement will be available by calling LBCC's switchboard, 928-2361. If you get a busy signal, keep trying. The busy signal means that someone else is listening to the recording.

After 4 Program

The After 4 Program presents, in a recurring four-year cycle, all courses necessary to complete certain LBCC degrees. The courses are offered after 4 p.m. and on weekends on the main campus and through the off-campus Extended Learning centers. Associate degree programs available through the After 4 Program include:

Associate of Arts (Oregon Transfer)

The Associate of Arts is an Oregon transfer degree. Students transferring from LBCC with an Associate of Arts degree will have met all lower-division institutional general education requirements for the baccalaureate degree at any State System of Higher Education college or university and will have achieved junior standing for the purposes of admission and registration. The Associate of Arts degree is particularly appropriate for students intending to continue evening baccalaureate degree programs at Linfield College or at Portland State University or who intend to transfer to the University of Oregon or the state colleges.

Associate of Science

The Associate of Science is an institutional transfer degree organized in relationship to subject areas of major interest and intended especially to facilitate transfer of LBCC students to

Oregon State University. Students transferring from LBCC with an Associate of Science degree will have met all institutional lower-division general education requirements at OSU. The After 4 Associate of Applied Science degree is available with a major in business administration or in liberal studies. The Associate of Science degree in liberal studies aligns directly with OSU's evening baccalaureate degree in business administration.

Associate of Applied Science

The Associate of Applied Science is a professional/technical (non-transfer) degree. The After 4 Associate of Applied Science degree is available in Supervisory Management.

Classes are held on the main campus and at the off-campus centers in Corvallis, Lebanon and Sweet Home.

Certificates

In addition to the degrees, several certificates are available through the After 4 Program, including Accounting Clerk, Basic Supervisory Management and Advanced Supervisory Management.

For more information about the After 4 Program, call the LBCC Albany Extended Learning Center, 967-6108.

MATHEMATICS (967-8856)

Eligibility to enroll in math courses is based on demonstrated skill level through completing the appropriate prerequisite or an appropriate test score on the Comparative Guidance and Placement Test or on the Computerized Placement Test.

MATH LAB

The on-campus Math Lab is located on the second floor of the Learning Resource Center as part of the Learning Center. The lab is an open-study area where students who have difficulty in their math courses can receive assistance. The lab also operates a testing area for many of the math courses offered through the Science and Industry Division. Lab hours are:

TV TELECOURSES TV

Telecourses are genuine college courses. They enable students to earn college credit at home and are an alternative to attending classes on the LBCC campus. While much of the course content is televised, the majority of information is contained in text and workbook materials specially designed for the telecourses. Classes are televised over Oregon Public Broadcasting (channel 7) and on TCI Cable in Albany and Corvallis (channels 14 and 31). Programs are usually viewed once or twice during the week and total one hour in length. For students who own VHS video recorders (VCRs), the complete telecourse is available at no charge on two VHS tapes from the LBCC Library. Enrolled students may check out the tapes for the entire term. Registration procedures are the same as for regular LBCC courses. A $15 telecourse fee, in addition to regular tuition, is due at the time of registration. Attending the first class meeting, listed in the schedule, is important because it serves as the student orientation session. On-campus attendance is required three or four times for review and testing. For more information, call Paul Snyder in the Media Services Center, 928-2361, ext. 332.

"You Can.....?????"

You Can Watercolor or You Can Draw, you can learn to do whatever you want to do! The Albany Center has a "You Can" series for those of you who got an "F" in cutting or drawing, or who wish they had a "little talent." Our "You Can" series is the place for you to begin. These classes are taught by area artists who know how difficult art can be for some people. They help to create an environment where creativity grows and students have a good time learning.

In addition to the "You Can" art series, we also are offering Relief Printmaking, Creative Media and Drawing classes. Other featured classes include Wear Your Art T-Shirt and Watercolor Greeting Cards.

Are You Right for Real Estate

Have you ever thought real estate was the profession for you? If so, you need to be licensed. This means you must take a series of courses and pass the state exam. The Albany Center offers the only live classroom real estate instruction between Salem and Eugene. This fall's class is Real Estate Practices. Sign up early because space is limited. Find out if you are right for real estate.

New Salt Kiln Ready for Fall Ceramic Classes

A new 80-cubic-foot salt glaze kiln is ready for use this fall at the Benton Center. The kiln replaces the one previously located on the main campus in Albany. That kiln was sold when the main campus Ceramics program was eliminated in a round of budget cuts one year ago. Proceeds from the sale of excess equipment and student-generated funds were used to build the new kiln and building, according to Jay Widmer, ceramics instructor at the Benton Center. The kiln was constructed by students, under Widmer's directions, from bricks donated by Simpson Timber of Albany.

"The new kiln will enable us to continue the salt glaze tradition. The class has met for 10 years and a unique aesthetic value has evolved from the participation of many of the area's serious-minded professional artists and potters," Widmer said. The Salt Glaze class meets 7 - 9:50 p.m. Thursdays for 10 weeks beginning Oct. 1. To learn about other pottery classes offered this fall, look in the Ceramics section of the Benton Center listings.

MATHEMATICS

Eligibility to enroll in math courses is based on demonstrated skill through completing the appropriate prerequisite with a "C" grade or higher or an appropriate test score on the Placement Test. Bring proof of prerequisite or call 757-8944 to schedule a Placement Test.

Some Benton Center courses are offered two ways: as regular lecture classes and as self-study courses in the Benton Center Math Lab. If a class is a lecture, the listing will show definite times of day. If a class is self-study, the time will be shown as "LAB."

MATH LAB

The Benton Center Math Lab provides a means for you to learn mathematics in a self-paced, self-study setting. You may begin a class at any time during the school year; but because of space restrictions, you should register early. Registration could be closed at any time. To determine the appropriate math class to take, call 757-8944 to schedule an appointment for a Placement Test. Although all Benton Center Math Lab classes are variable credit, you must register for all credits your first term. For classes not completed in one term, partial credit will be awarded, and the remaining credits must be repurchased and completed the next term.

IMPORTANT: Preregistered students who do not attend a minimum of two times or take one module test during the first two weeks may be subject to administrative withdrawal. Non-attendance during the term also may be cause for withdrawal.

MATH LAB ORIENTATION MEETINGS: If you have never taken a class in the Math Lab, try to come to an orientation meeting on MONDAY, September 28, at 12:30 p.m. or 6:45 p.m. or TUESDAY, September 29, at 6:45 p.m. We will explain how to get started on your math class. If you are unable to come to one of these meetings, come to the lab during our open hours for an individual orientation.

MONDAY and WEDNESDAY 11:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

TUESDAY, THURSDAY, FRIDAY 9 a.m. - 1 p.m.

MONDAY through THURSDAY 6:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m.

Computer Classes

To accommodate the variety of learning styles and educational needs of our students, the Lebanon Center has added a third method of instruction for our computer software application classes. In addition to the very success Business Technology Lab and Microcomputer Self-Study Lab, we will offer lecture/hands-on classes in Introduction to Macintosh, Microcomputers: An Introduction, Introduction to MS-DOS, Introduction to Networking, Computer Survey, WordPerfect 5.1, Data Recovery & Disk Repair, Quicken: Computerized Accounting and Data Base Management. We also offer a variety of self-paced, self-study classes that enable you to learn at your own pace. Check our Computer section of this schedule for additional listing and other information.

Intervention Skills for Teachers, Nurses and Others

Professional Intervention Skills -- Back by popular demand. Gene Eakin teaches this vocational update course designed to help teachers, nurses, youth workers, police officers and others improve their counseling skills. Specific areas covered include suicide prevention, overcoming loss, eating disorders, alcohol and drug abuse, stress management and self-esteem.

New Classes in Business Technology Lab

Three new classes have been added to the curriculum in the Business Technology Lab. WordPerfect 5.1 Quick Course is a five-week hands-on course designed to provide a quick overview of basic and advanced features. Topics include starting and exiting the program; creating, editing, and saving documents; formatting, printing, spell check and Thesaurus features; merge/sort; labels; tables; footnotes; macros; columns; and graphics. Only limited typing skills needed; no tests required. You learn by doing! Typing: Speed and Accuracy Development is an update of the Cortez Peter's Typing course. If you thought the program was good before wait until you update your skills with this new offering. The 10-week computerized typing skillbuilding program diagnoses a student's current keyboarding problems, prescribes appropriate practice materials, and periodically evaluates the student's skills development through one- and five-minute timings. Our third class is a remake of our Typing II Formatting class, we changed the number of weeks and credits and created a new five-week class. Typing II Formatting enables students to continue working on centering, correspondence, tabulation, business forms and reports. With individualized instruction, students advance at their own rate.

Math Lab: Better and Better

The Lebanon Center's Math Lab will be under the guiding hand of Dr. Robert Lewis beginning this fall. Rob was named LBCC Outstanding Part-time Faculty for 1991-92. He will be teaching an array of classes from Basic Mathematics through College Algebra and Trigonometry. The lab is open afternoons and evenings Monday through Thursday (see schedule for times). Course curriculum will be identical to that offered through the math labs on the main campus and the Benton Center in Corvallis. The Math Lab offers self-study, self-paced, variable credit as well as open-entry convenience. Math was never more fun. Give us a try.

The Lebanon Center Math Lab offers you the opportunity to learn mathematics at your own pace using self-study materials and individualized instruction. Start your self-study program at any time during the school year. Your instructor helps you design a program to fit your schedule and goals. You register for all course credits at the beginning of the term. However, partial credit will be awarded for a course not completed during the term; remaining credits must be repurchased the subsequent term. We look forward to meeting you; come on in!

Have you ever taken a course in the Math Lab? If not, come to an orientation on Monday, September 28, at 4 p.m. or 5 p.m., or on Tuesday, September 29, at 6 p.m. or 7:30 p.m. We will explain how to get a successful start in your math program. If you are unable to attend, come in during the Math Lab hours for an individual orientation.

We offer classes taught by qualified instructors that will help you get started, build your confidence and teach you new skills in a relaxed atmosphere. We offer classes that you can walk away from feeling like you're ready for a new challenge. Let us help when you are ready to turn your dreams into reality. Call 367-6901.

Career/Job Counseling Available

Career/Job Counselor Karen Brockett is available by appointment to help steer you in the right direction. Her services include career interest testing, resume and job interview tips, career/job goal setting and referral to other agencies that may help, as well as moral support. Come in and see Karen; it's a step in the right direction. The job placement office on the main campus has listings of jobs available in and outside of Oregon. This list is available to past and present LBCC students.

Which Computer Class Should I Take?

At the Sweet Home Center, the majority of our computer classes are for beginning students who have never touched a computer before or are unfamiliar with the software programs we offer. WordPerfect 5.1: Word Processing is a beginning course on IBM-compatible computers. In this course you learn to create and edit letters, memos and other documents. Introduction to Microcomputers provides hands-on experience in exploring a variety of software applications, including WordPerfect, MS-DOS and Quattro. Introduction to Quattro can help you minimize the time you spend keeping records, balancing books and drawing graphs. It is comparable to Lotus 1.2.3. For these beginning classes, we encourage you to take the FREE Microcomputer Mini Session the week before the beginning of the term. These courses are held at the Sweet Home Center computer Lab.

If you want to learn to use the Macintosh computer, Macintosh Basics is taught this fall in the MacIntosh Computer Lab at the Junior High School. Alan Temple is the instructor.

Also available at the Sweet Home Center Computer Lab are open lab hours that can be purchased for a fee. Purchasing lab time enables people to come in and work on their own projects. LBCC students enrolled in computer courses in the other LBCC Extended Learning centers or on the main campus can use the lab at no additional cost to them.

The Holidays Are Coming

It's not too early to start thinking about the holidays. You can give family and friends a special gift you learned to make in one of our fall classes. Look in the Holiday section of the Sweet Home listings for details on these classes: Christmas Graham Cracker House, Ukrainian Eggs, Christmas Greenery Wreaths, Christmas Greens Center Piece, Christmas Wreaths/Center Pieces and Dried Flower Wreaths. In the Art section, you will find information about our Stained Glass and Calligraphy Greeting Cards classes.

The staff members at the Sweet Home Center are here to serve you. Please don't hesitate to call 367-6901.

Developing Your Successful Business

During this six-week series, people who are wanting to get their venture off the ground or who have recently started their operations will find the information and help they need to increase their chance of survival in today's highly competitive market place. You will learn about business success factors, defining your business concept, financing your business and begin to compile relevant information for your feasibility study. The necessary elements to operate a successful business are clearly and easily spelled out for you!

Beginning/Advanced Mail Order Workshops

Beginning: Developing a mail order business into a successful enterprise is not a "fly-by-the-seat of your pants" proposition. You need to know the techniques that the experts use, such as how to promote your product or service through well-designed brochures, coupons or letters. You also need to know how to contact the most appropriate consumer for your product. You will learn how to use tested methods to open new markets and how to evaluate them. Advanced: This workshop presents advanced mail order techniques along with how to save money on advertisements, methods of placing ads without money up front and advanced testing procedures. Scott Moir, the presenter of this two-part workshop, is an experienced small-business owner. As vice president of a Portland advertising agency, Scott specializes in product development and marketing for mail order clients. His expertise comes from developing his own profitable business and helping other business people succeed with their businesses. The cost is $50 each class or $80 for both. Beginning Mail Order is a prerequisite for the advanced class.

Business Management Program

This program is for the Business Owner who likes to do things right! This popular, innovative and comprehensive year-long program is designed to provide you, the small-business owner, with the necessary management tools to enhance your decision-making ability, management skills and increase your profitability. Due to popular demand, we now offer a program that provides you, the business owner who has been in business not quite one year, in-depth training in basic marketing, financial management, management and organization, and systems development. In addition to the monthly classes, one-on-one business counseling is provided. For more information and an application, call the Training and Business Development Center today!

Turning Point Transitions

Confidence-building, life skills and career exploration highlight this program for those who are in transition, often as a result of divorce, separation, death of spouse, single parenthood or altered homemaker status. Participants learn to build self-confidence by improving communication and assertive abilities. Students also learn specific life skills such as time and money management, goal-setting, decision-making and problem-solving techniques. Career exploration is tailored to meet the needs of participants who want to seek further education/training or to enter/re-enter the job market.

Some assistance with child care and transportation is available for participants in need of these services during the course. Contact Mary Lou Bennett at 967-0581.

Persistence Pays Off for Electronics Graduate

Article and photos by John D. Curry

Her parents died by the time she was 17. She had no one to turn to. She was on her own.

Eleven years later, confronted with a nine-year abusive marriage, three small children and a feeling of hopelessness, Cindy Strickler made the decision that would change her life: She enrolled at LBCC in 1990.

The idea of school looked grim. She would soon be a single parent and she had no income or support. The last time she had attended high school was 13 years ago.

It would mean a gauntlet of paperwork: applying for government aid is time consuming. There would be plenty of red tape, waiting and little time.

Known for her stubborn determination and fortitude, Strickler did not give up.

"I have learned a great deal about government programs that help poor people," Strickler said. "There are literally hundreds of forms to fill out. And the forms often contradict one another. For example, if I applied for a college loan, it was counted as extra income. Extra income automatically cuts your food stamp ration. This made it difficult to feed my kids.

"Somehow you work through the forms. It's like a maze, and it takes a great deal of time. But you can do it if you are willing to persist."

Confounding everyone, she chose a major she knew nothing about, Electronics Engineering Technology. The only explanation she had for her choice was "intuition." The math entrance exam into the electronics program was another potential stumbling block.

"I hadn't attended school in 13 years," she said. "And during this time, I hadn't been practicing math problems either. It was suggested that I take some lower division math courses before taking the exam. 'No', I told them; 'I don't have time to do that.'"

Her willingness to risk taking the exam paid off. "Sure I was scared, but I was also desperate. I took the chance.

"I was really stunned when I passed. But it was then that I began to see that someone else was inside of me. Someone that was locked up and desperate to get out. It was then that I realized that I could change and become a different person."

For two years of study, Strickler battled the odds. She lived on a diet of risk and limited time. Sleepless nights with sick children sapped her strength. The emotional trauma of divorce, child custody and court proceedings brought on clouds of depression. And there were always those chronic government applications to fill out. Miraculously, somewhere in the middle of the fray, she found time to study.

She surprised her instructors. She had an aptitude for electronics and made excellent marks. She learned the material quickly and was able to apply it. Still, the pace was exhausting and unrelenting.

"But I'd do the whole thing over again," said Strickler. "Outside of school, I was often in a great deal of mental pain. I felt torn into a million pieces. It was tough - really tough. Having my educational goal really helped me through it."

Her fellow students and her instructors rallied around her. "My instructors encouraged me and showed me a great deal of emotional support," she said. "When a crisis would arise, they were flexible and understanding."

Last spring, Cindy Strickler graduated from LBCC with a 3.70 grade point average in Electronics Engineering Technology. Immediately after graduation, she assumed a position with Intel Corporation in Aloha, Oregon. Her starting salary was $20,000 a year.

"I can't believe that it is over," she said. "I know that my education at LBCC gave me a new life. I have a chance now. I'm someone else, someone new."

Reaching Education Goals Opens More Than Job Options

Cindy Strickler: The Personal Side

By Cindy Strickler, LBCC Graduate

My decision to end my abusive marriage was a quiet one. It was not dramatic, and I was not filled with rage or revenge. The choice developed over a two-year period and manifested itself with the revelation of secret abuse that occurred in my family of origin. Ultimately, the fact that I had always been a part of a dysfunctional family led to my decision to marry a man with abusive tendencies and my decision to continue to be married to him. With this new-found information, I solemnly decided I no longer wanted abuse to be a part of my life. I wasn't sure at the time what the options were, but I was sure there had to be other choices. Pursuing an education seemed to be the path for opening up my options.

It was unusual that I would consider Electronics as a career option. I had been a "stay-at-home" mom for nine years. I had a very traditional view of the role of women in the society and in the family. Society may be making great strides in the opportunities available for women, but it is still difficult for many of us to consider training in a field other than those traditionally considered acceptable for women. In addition, many traditional fields do not pay enough to support a family nor are there enough jobs available for the number of women needing them. I was choosing to end my abusive marriage. I chose to step out of the traditional because of my financial needs. I needed to be training in a relatively short period of time to make a "man's wage." Electronics provided that opportunity. I found that I was stimulated by the type of thinking required in studying electronics, mathematics and computers.

To my surprise, I discovered at LBCC that the discriminatory barriers I feared for a female in a traditionally male-dominated field existed primarily in my own mind. I had established those limitations from living in male-dominated family settings. I met nothing but support and encouragement from my male instructors. They helped me strip the limits from my potential. The staff at LBCC became my greatest support during probably the most difficult time in my life.

When you decide to make the kind of major changes in your life that I had, you expect it to be difficult. The daily stress and pressure are compounded by the emotional stress of changing your way of thinking, feeling and reacting. There were difficulties, however, that were completely unexpected. Probably the most difficult for me was losing the people I was hoping to lean on for support during this transition in my life. Friends are chosen based upon the lifestyle that we live. When changes occur, it can be difficult for these friendships to make the transition. Some of the people I used to rely on could not foresee the outcome of the decisions I was making nor could they comprehend the destructiveness of the situation I was in.

I had intentionally set out to sever the relationship with my husband, but I hadn't chosen to lose the other relationships. I was left feeling alone and abandoned. I came to the abrupt realization that ending my marriage would touch every aspect of my life, even my friendships.

LBCC Electronics Students Successful in Finding Jobs

By Kent Hansen, Electronics Engineering Department

Cindy has been a very successful student in spite of difficult circumstances. I am happy that she has acquired a position at Intel Corporation and know she will do well as a technician.

The electronics field was very "soft" from the middle 1980s to the spring of 1991. Yet during that time, 80 to 90 percent of the LBCC Electronics Engineering grads were getting hired, although some not until late the following fall.

During the Spring of 1991, many of the graduating students were hired by the time of graduation, with most of the remainder getting jobs by early fall — for a total of 90 percent placement. Most of the recent placement has been with Hewlett-Packard and Intel, with some graduates working for smaller local firms.

Starting salaries for the past three years have been $18,000 to $24,000 per year at the larger firms and $7 to $10/hour at smaller companies. One exceptional student who had some previous experience accepted an offer for $35,000 a year.

Electronics at LBCC is a challenging, but rewarding program.

I established new friendships with people who were able to risk being a part of my life during a time when I needed much more than I was able to give in return. These friendships were few, but going to school full time and being a single parent did not allow me the time or the energy to devote to many new relationships. These people encouraged me and propped me up when I felt I could no longer go through another day, another lab assignment, another test or another sleepless night with an upset child.

When things seemed too overwhelming and I had trouble finding the motivation I needed to complete my goals, I would do something that gave me a sense of accomplishment — usually something physically assertive or something I had always considered to be "man's work." I would mow the grass, fix something around the house, clean the garage or extend and reach an exercise goal. Completing the smaller tasks gave me a sense of accomplishment that helped me reach my overall goals.

The greatest sense of accomplishment came on my first day of work. I was getting ready for the day and became so overwhelmed that I just let the tears flow for a few minutes. I finally realized the magnitude of what I had accomplished. I set out to graduate from the Electronics program at LBCC in two years and find a job in the field so I could become self-sufficient financially. I reached that goal! I was going for my first day of work in a permanent full-time job. My children and I sacrificed, yet I am sure they would agree with me that what we have gained outweighed the sacrifice.

And just what is it we have gained? As a family, we have gained communication free from the constraints of destructive secrets, trust to function together toward a positive goal and a pathway to breaking the cycle of abuse.

When a crisis arises, a person must enter the survival mode. The mere struggle of tending the basic needs of oneself and family make it impossible to see anything other than the world in which the crisis exists. You easily can become angry and impatient with people who can smile, laugh and be happy. People who live in dysfunctional families are continuously living in a crisis situation. Their focus always must be on immediate family needs. It becomes difficult to give any emotional energy to anyone else. This unwanted self-centeredness is one of the cruelest results of an abusive family situation. Sadly, many never realize what they have sacrificed. I count myself lucky to be one of the women who could break free.

Recently, a friend and I witnessed a young couple crossing the street. The woman looked fondly at her companion as he put his arm around her and pulled her close. My friend pointed out the smile on the woman's face, commenting on how good it was to see someone so happy. I thought, "how odd that he would even notice such a thing."

As it turns out, my friend gave me a very precious gift that day; he introduced me to the pleasure of seeing smiles on the faces of other people. I had been so absorbed in my own world of crisis that I could not see beyond it. I knew I was beginning to heal when I began to find my own pleasure in noticing the joy of others.

I came to LBCC with very limited options. I established the educational goal of completing my degree in two years. Reaching that goal opened up many unseen options and helped me continue in the recovery process. I may always feel the need to be cautious of relationships, but I now have the tools to empower me to make healthier choices. These tools, such as education, an awareness of manipulative behavior and the knowledge that mutually respectful relationships exist, pushed me beyond mere survival to enjoyment of life.

Sadly, the family situation I was in is not unique. Many women and children live in physically, emotionally and/or sexually abusive situations. Although others may not understand, I know that it is extremely difficult to break free from abuse. It takes strength, determination and courage. If you are an abused woman, you have probably already developed strength and determination in trying to make an abusive relationship work. The courage comes from being able to face the truth of who you are deep inside, of why you are where you are and of learning where you want to be. I found great encouragement from a quote I once heard. I don't know who the author is, but he or she had a great understanding of what it means to struggle for change:

The truth will make you flinch before it sets you free.

It is worth facing the truth. It is painful, but it is worth it.

Many community resources are available in Linn and Benton counties to help women and/or children overcome abusive relationships. Help and information can be obtained from the Women's Center at LBCC, 928-2361, ext. 377. The Center Against Rape and Domestic Violence (CARDV) is located in Corvallis and provides support and information to those who are in abusive situations. The CARDV number is 754-0110. Good luck to you.

Alcohol- and Drug-Free Program In Place at Linn-Benton

As one part of its Alcohol- and Drug-free (Workplace/School) Program, Linn-Benton Community College recently published a pamphlet to inform students and staff about the health risks of using drugs and to outline counseling and treatment resources available in the area. The pamphlet, which is repeated here, includes standards of conduct required of students and staff, a description of the health risks associated with using illicit drugs and abusing alcohol plus an overview of the applicable local, state and federal legal sanctions for the unlawful possession, use or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol. Anyone wanting additional information should contact LBCC's Human Resources Office, 967-6502.

I. INTRODUCTION

Linn-Benton Community College is legally required and morally committed to the prevention of illicit drug use and the abuse of alcohol by both students and employees. Drug and alcohol abuse is a significant public health problem which has spread throughout our society, affecting performance and productivity, as well as our level of general health. In addition, the use of drugs can adversely affect an organization's level of safety as well as its public confidence and trust. And lastly, with reference to "The Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendment of 1989 (Public Law 101-226),"

"...no institution of higher education shall be eligible to receive funds or any other form of financial assistance under any Federal program, including participation in any federally funded or guaranteed student loan program, unless it certifies to the Secretary that it has adopted and has implemented a program to prevent the use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol by students and employees..."

In brief, this section has been developed by LBCC to comply with the recently enacted federal law and to educate and inform its students and employees of the health risks, counseling and treatment resources, and sanctions for noncompliance. Linn-Benton will biennially review this program to determine its effectiveness and implement changes if needed and to ensure that the sanctions required are consistently enforced.

II. STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

STUDENTS

The LBCC Student Rights, Freedoms, Responsibilities & Due Process document (page 11, number 7) defines the following behaviors as violations of the standards of student conduct: "use, possession, or distribution on campus of alcoholic beverages, narcotics, or dangerous drugs as described by the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, except as expressly permitted by law."

EMPLOYEES

In compliance with the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendment of 1989 (Public Law 101-226), it shall be the policy of Linn-Benton Community College to maintain an alcohol and drug-free workplace for all employees of the District. The unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of alcohol or a controlled substance, except by physician's prescription, is strictly prohibited in the workplace(s) of the Linn-Benton Community College District.

III. A DESCRIPTION OF THE HEALTH RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE USE OF ILLICIT DRUGS AND THE ABUSE OF ALCOHOL

ILLICIT DRUGS:

Marijuana is addictive and can cause: impaired short-term memory, visual tracking, heart rate, slowed reaction time/poor coordination, lung disease and damage to reproductive functions

Cocaine and Crack are highly addictive and may cause: impaired judgment, short attention span, irritability, depression, mood swings, malnutrition, severe weight loss and liver damage, seizures, coma, seizure and heart attack

PCP, LSD, Heroin, Mescaline and Morphine have a wide variety of negative health effects which may include: hallucinations, mental confusion and/or permanent loss of mental function, addiction, convulsions, coma, death

Prescription Drugs are too often used to reduce stress and are not safe unless they are taken as prescribed. If abused, they can lead to: malnutrition, sluggishness or hyperactivity, impaired reflexes, addiction and brain damage, coma and death

ALCOHOL:

Alcohol is the most commonly abused drug and can cause: loss of concentration, poor judgment and coordination, impaired memory, drowsiness and mood swings, liver damage/cirrhosis of the liver, high blood pressure and heart attack, pancreatitis, various cancers, heart disease

Delivery of less than five grams or possession of less than one ounce of marijuana is a violation. HB 2479 established mandatory evaluation, education and treatment services for those under 18 years of age. If services are successfully completed, the charge will be dropped. Oregon has strong new laws allowing cars, boats, etc. that transport illegal drugs to be seized and forfeited.

Alcohol is an illegal drug for those under 21 years of age. For drivers under 18 ANY detectable amount of alcohol (above .05 BAC) is grounds for losing their license until they are 18. There are many more laws pertaining to alcohol and other drugs. This is a sample to demonstrate that most drugs are VERY illegal, and a criminal conviction may bar a student from their chosen career path or an employee from successful employment with the college.

V. LBCC SANCTIONS

Sanctions which may be imposed on students for violations of the code include: disciplinary probation (a verbal or written warning by the college president or other administrator), temporary exclusion (removal for the duration of a class period), suspension (exclusion from classes, privileges, or activities for a specified period), expulsion (termination of student status).

EMPLOYEES
The college will impose sanctions or require satisfactory completion of a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program. Sanctions imposed may include disciplinary probation (the suspension of a more severe penalty for a specific time period, based upon good behavior), suspension (the temporary barring from employment for a specific time period, without pay), and/or termination (the severance of employment with the college).
